Overview of the event:

A full-day poker run finishing with a battle of the bones

This is the day to celebrate good fun and great food. Whether you have your butt in the seat of a classic cruiser, or your butt is sitting in a smoker waiting for BBQ sauce and cornbread, this is an event a rich mix of participants will remember for years to come.

The ride will be a three stop poker run with a scenic northern route that will take about 3-4 hours.

While the bikers are out, we will have local and regional BBQ teams working their magic on the grills. Classes will be offered for those who want to learn the secrets of a perfectly smoked and finished piece of pork.

Even if you are not a contest judge, you will not miss out on fantastic BBQ fare. Local restaurants will be supporting the event and Golden House by providing sample portions of their specialties.

In addition to all of that, we will also have live music, a silent auction and several raffles running throughout the day.

Understanding the value of Golden House

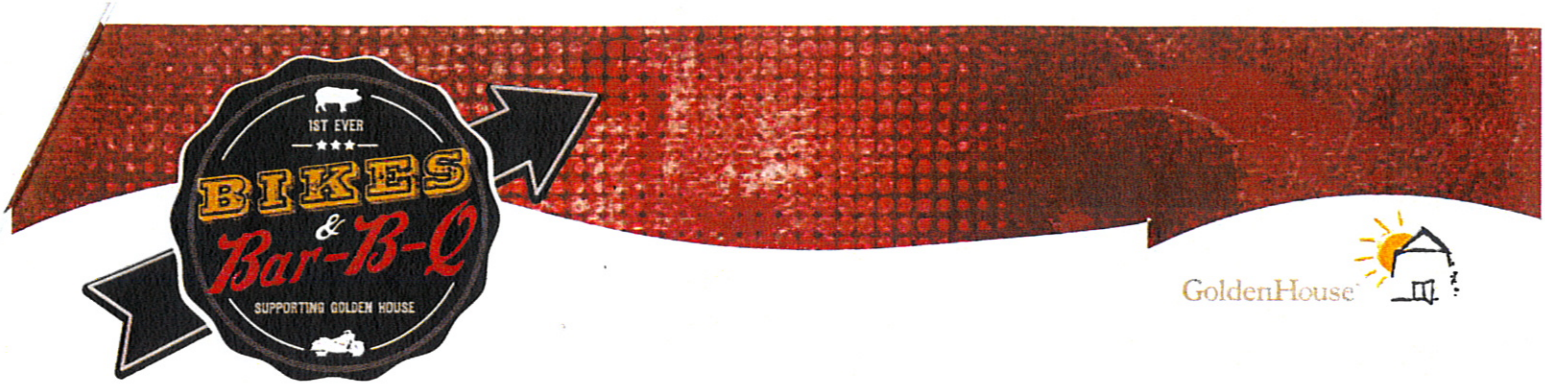
And the need to eliminate domestic violence in our community

As you may know Golden House is Brown County's domestic violence support center. The Golden House is dedicated to helping domestic violence victims change their lives forever, delivering needed services and shelter for those who have had their lives shattered by abuse. We are the only comprehensive service provider in Brown County for this growing population of people who need this specialized type of help.

In 2011, The Golden House helped thousands of our neighbors, answering more than 6,000 crisis calls on our 24-hour hotline, facilitating more than 1,900 counseling sessions for more than 1,300 people, providing shelter to nearly 500 women, men and children and educating more than 19,000 students about the warning signs of domestic abuse and how to prevent it.

In the coming year, we will help hundreds of families, and thousands of people by giving them a safe place to start healing, and begin their lives again. These are priceless gifts that empower survivors and change their lives forever. Our mission is to give people the opportunity to reach their full potential and reclaim the happiness the rest of us too often take for granted. The changes our work can bring are perhaps most evident in the words of a survivor who shared her story at the Golden Harvest Ball, our largest annual fundraiser:

I couldn't have done it without the support of my family, the community and the staff and women at The Golden House. I continue to draw strength from those who have come and gone and those who visit our support group for the first time ... we have had a chance to grow, to heal and to help others . . . My hope for my girls is that they have learned to stand up for themselves and to stop the cycle, the cycle of violence... Golden House saved my life."



Our mission

The Golden House is to provide hope and healing for victims of domestic violence within Brown County and surrounding regions. People come to us to become survivors. As a local, nonprofit agency, the Golden House strives to eliminate domestic violence from our community by:

- Working cooperatively with other agencies and community resources.
- Providing shelter, crisis intervention, legal advocacy, support groups, information, and referral services.
- Educating our community regarding the prevalence, effects, and prevention of domestic violence.

The struggle Golden House faces in 2012

The need is growing faster than we can support

As we look at 2012, there are many who still need our help, and there is more work to do as we help families find the strength to heal and survive. In 2011, our programs and facilities were pushed to and beyond capacity, and that has taken its toll on our facilities, our programs and our ability to provide this unique suite of services in our community.

Unfortunately, we are also facing a significant funding gap for the agency as a whole and are making difficult decisions with respect to services since we cannot provide full services to our community under our current budget. Since more than 60% of our operating budget comes from private donations and fundraising activities, we are once again looking to a small overburdened, over-solicited, population in Brown County.

What we are facing in 2012:

- We have already spent January and February at or beyond capacity
- We have cut services to balance our budget, however, to provide full service to our community, we will need an additional $50,000 to $70,000 in funding in 2012
- 62% of our budget is funded through individual donations from the people of Brown County
- State and Federal budget pressures limiting grants and available funds for our programs and we are pushing to be a self-funded agency in the next 5 years
